

Open Roleplaying Community

Have you ever watched a film or read a book and wondered what it would be like to be that character? Or maybe you've thought, "What if the hero did X instead?"

Whether it's fantasy, sci-fi, horror, or modern day, we can help make that happen. Roleplaying games can cater to your every need as the possibilities are endless!

O.R.C is a non-affiliated, free-to-join, community of gamers of all ages. We are committed to making everyone feel welcome, whether they have played RPGs before or otherwise.

If you're a GM looking a group of players, O.R.C can help - we have a large community and a number of resources: a wiki, a personal messaging system, events calendar and more. There's no problem if you are curious and just want to watch a game in progress either - just come along and say hi.

If you are a player then we have a number of games running from epic campaigns in the 41st Millennium to good old-fashioned dungeon crawls, as well as occasional one-off games. As well as the stalwart D&D game we also play other RPGs, such as Cthulhutech and host the occasional playtest too.

O.R.C has a thriving online community. Check out the website at:

<http://www.orcedinburgh.co.uk>

How to find us

We meet every Saturday between 12.15-12.45pm in Illegal Jacks Bar & Grill on Lothian Road. Games usually beginning at 1pm, and continuing until 5pm.

A number of us also run games on other days outside Saturday afternoons: check the site for details!